Class II correction using a completely customized lingual appliance

Completely-customized lingual orthodontics is an efficient, predictable and esthetic solution for our patients. Patients showing a class II malocclusion represent the majority of patients in orthodontic practices. Several modes of treatment are available to correct this sagittal discrepancy such as inter-maxillary elastics, flexible or rigid protrusion devices, maxillary distalization using mini-screws or symmetric and asymmetric extractions. The choice depends on several decision criteria. We will overview the current therapeutical strategies to correct a class II malocclusion with a completely-customized lingual appliance and the decision criteria.
