

Pursuing the final detailing of our Lingual Orthodontic Treatments.

Abstract

Finishing the treatments in the most satisfactory way is the dream of all the orthodontists... in Lingual Orthodontics?

Should we be satisfied with partial outcomes or maybe we can reach a true precise finishing? What about 3D control, reality or dream?

In my talk, I'll try to point out those that are, in my humble opinion, some of the key points in order to get the best for our lingual patients.

I'll go through clinical cases, progressively raising the bar of the difficulty, describing in depth the biomechanics used to reach satisfactory finishing.
